PEACE CORPS REPRESENTATIVE VISITS LHS

Miss Jonnie Maldonade, Peace Corps representative, visited La-Salle on January 26, to talk to the seniors about the School Partnership Program in which LaSalle will participate.

participate. Miss Maldonade served for two years in Tanzania, Africa, teaching grades five through eight. She had to learn Swahili, which is Tanzan-iza's national language, in order to be able to teach. According to Miss Maldonade very few children in Tanzania ever reach high school level. At grades 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14 they are given certain tests. If they fail to pass the test at their If they fail to pass the test at their level they do not continue their education. Some of the children never go to school. They just stay home or do the farm work. There are only about 300 paying school children in the whole country.

Miss Maldonade is now head of the Peace Corps office in Indiana. She helps to recruite volunteers and establishes relations with the schools about the School Partnership Program.

In Indiana there are 10 to 14 other schools involced in this program. The school that LaSalle will build in Africa at a cost of $1,000, will help the people abroad and here at home.

"This school program is a terrific idea for the people them-selves. The students here at La-Salle are sharing the opportunity with these people for education." said Miss Maldonade.

MANY LASALLE STUDENTS SCORE IN

DISTRICT CONTEST

Six LaSalle band students will travel to Indianapolis on February 15, 1969, to participate in the State Music Contest.

These six students are Karen Boyles (flute), Curtis Wilson (clarinet), Marcia Chmilewski (flute), Marilyn Rupe (flute), Lynne Johnson (French horn), and Don Kryzaniak (bass clarinet).

In order to go on to the State Music Contest the musicians must win a gold medal at the district contest level and play Class I type music which is the more difficult music.

The six students will present two quartets at the State Contest. The two pieces they will play are: Two Paraphrases on Walloon Christmas Carols (three flutes and one clarinet) and Folk Song Suite (clarinet, flute, bass clarinet, and French horn.) Curtis Wilson and Karen Boyles will play in both of the quartets.

There were many other students from LaSalle who were gold and silver medal winners at the district contest. This contest was held at John Adams High School on Saturday, January 24.

Other gold medal winners besides the six mentioned above were: Greg Stalker, for his snare drum solo, Carol Carlson, Karen Lichtenbar-ger, and Debbie Stirglitz all for flutes. Ethel Smith and Kathy Doolittle for clarinets and Becky Hutchinson for bass clarinet also received gold medals.

Silver medalists were: Greg Stalker, Marilyn Coleman, Ken Barlow, Wendell Blackwell, Jerry Bendit, and Lynne Johnson. Other included Becky Hutchinson, Terri Collins, Linda Kunde, Cindy Melczek, Ed Jaroszweski, Susan Slater, and Brenda Hanyzewski.

James Forrest and Richard Koelndorfer each received two silver medals

The participants were rated by a judge who broke the presentation down and graded on seven different points: intention (accurate pitch), stage presentation, balance, tone quality, rhythm accuracy, fluency of technique, and general musicianship and interpretation.

The rating is based on a one to five point score for each catagory. Therefore, the best possible score for one piece being seven. A score of 7-10 is needed to win a gold medal and a score of 11-15 for a silver one.

Making plans for the Sweetheart Ball are committee chairmen Diane Ivankovics, Carol Bottorf, Connie Mady and Barb Kawka.

WHAT THE WORLD NEEDS NOW IS LOVE

Valentine's Day...a day of love...to mend...brokenhearts...to bring love...into happy hearts...but...who will give the world a valentine...it needs it the most...remember that song...what the world needs now is tove...it was once in the Top Ten...was it just a song...must've meant something...LOVE...what's that...a word...misused..abused...confusing... comes in all shapes and sizes ... you can't buy it ... which annoys people ... who want it ... but can't buy it ... it comes from the soul ... not a drugstore shelf...yes...but...where is love?

Love for country ... sing the national anthem louder than anyone else ... but burn the draft card when asked to defend the country ... where is love ... hippies ... free love ... love everyone ... all talk and no action ... where is love ... tiots ... World...here is our valentive to you ... filled with hope ... not love ... for Man knows not how to love yet ... forigve us ... we know not what we do ... take our hands ... perhaps together we can find LOVE.

FRENCHY

Bonjour! (the usual greeting for a person of my nationality, ha.. ha!) Today is a day for love. Treat everyone especially nice to-day. Show someone special you care. I suppose now we shall get on with the news.

It seems the clothes you wear can reflect on your name. CAROL CARLSON didn't realize this and now she's called "Hot Pink Mama" by her close friends. COLLEEN MORITZ wears CH-UCK PURUCKER'S shirt in cheer-leading practice and guess what... it fits! (Also it's true that only COLLEEN'S hairdresser knows for sure.)

The talent award for February goes to TOM GADSON, for his beautiful fall in the parking lot. The first runner up award goes to FRANK VARGO, for his fall on the way home from church. If anvone knows FRANK'S nick-name, please notify me by way of f my basket in room 227.

Let's hear it for KATHY WIL-SON: She missed a day of school. Ha, ha! I am beating you now. (Did you eat the polka-dots off of your dress?)

This happened awhile back but it shows how the students of La-Salle react when they hear a bell. It seems MRS. AUER had some stuff in the drver in the home economics room. Her third hour class heard the buzzer fo off and since-MRS. AUER was not in the room at the moment, they rushed into the hall thinking it was a fire alarm. Real smart kids

The most brilliant statement daring the month of January was made by PATTI FARR. She noticed that the car in which she was riding was stopping and with startled eyes and voice she remarked, "We are stopping!" It took real brains to figure that one out, didn't it PATTI?

Does 'KEVIN DAUGHERTY really have a big enough mouth to stick his own foot in it?

I wish you all could have been at the Thespian's induction. JOHN STACHOWICZ had just finished saying, "and with this candle," when he sneezed and blew out the candle.

CRAIG WELCH was a carnation baby, and baby, llok at him now!

A special congratulations goes to LYNN LAND for remembering her lunch money for half of the year, Good work, LYNN! Have a Happy Valentine's Day and "reach our in the darkness and you may find a friend." In the meantime, maintain your cool. Au Revior.

Love means many things to different people. To some, love is pure happiness and understanding. To others, it may mean peace, and yet to some, love has no meaning at all.

Webster has given the term "love" five, different meanings. One, "to feel affection for"; two, "to feel a lover's passion, devotion and tenderness for"; three, "to cherish or foster with divine love and mercy"; four, "to like or de-sire actively"; and fifth, "to fondle, caress."

Several staff members and students were asked their idea on what the word love meant to them, and many seemed to feel that love is a sharing and understanding emotion or feeling.

"To me, love is sharing and being able to understand that person. It's helping someone and doing what's best for him," said Kathy Tobolski. Mr. Stover believes love is the willingness to share problems make sacrifices and, "accept faults with kindness and understanding." Gene Carteaux also feels that love is shar-"During the good times and ing, bad times together, no matter what the situation." To others, love consists of an inner emotional feeling. Julie Gilbert said, "love is when you have a funny feeling in your heart; you come near this certain person and you become nervous and shakey. When you talk to him, your tongue ties and you can't think of any-thing to say." Mr. Vogel believes love is a, "mutual feeling or attraction involving admiration, respect and a sympathetic understanding between two people. Out of this feeling, a truthfulness develops, further strengthening the bond. Many found that love was very difficult to explain or express. "Love is something you really can't explain," stated Hester Pegues. "When you're really in love, it should last forever, or it never really was love." Hewter also believes love makes one feel at ease, as if, "everything in the world is beautiful to you." Van-essa Parker feels, "love is a word that can only be expressed with the eyes and motions of the soul.

Miss Powers, who also found the term somewhat difficult to explain stated, "Who knows...... I'm still searching!" Mr. Buua, Miss Hatt's student teacher, said, "Lover as we all know is some-thing that is not tangible, and in this respect is hard to define, but I feel mainly that love is living. I feel that a person, by living with another, eventually learns to love this person. I do not agree with the policy of "love at first sight." Thus, I feel that it takes a great deal of time and is gained mainly by experiences with another person.

Dave Dalke also found it somewhat difficult to express, but he is sure that such a feeling is so powerful, "that you yourself is the only one that knows when it is present." Mr. Vargo feels there are several types of love, therefore it would be difficult to define love in it's general form. Even so, he stated such words as, "understanding, respect, admiration, concern, affecshould have." Karen Davis also be-lieves love is something everyone wants to have in their life time. "Love is Truth and Life; Black and White and Blue," said Vicki Cranmer.

Others believe love is a show of action or dependents towards some one. "Love is when you simply can not do with out someone", said Randy Bond. Rod Harlin be-lieves, "love is easier done than lieves, said.

Yet, others how decide to define the term less seriously, believed love to be an item event or mere happening.

"Love is being with members of homeroom 226 from 9:05 to 9:15," said Mr. Klaybor. Wrest-ling coach, Mr. Wegenke feels that love is, "when your heavy weight wrestler pins his oppinent and you win the dual meet by one point."

tion, devotion, loyalty, benevolence and enthusiam, in defining the term in general.

Others defined the term "love" as a type of emotional reaction. For example, Mrs. Heritage be-lieves love, "is being sensitive to someone else's needs, his hopes, and putting the realization or solution of these before onew'own desires.

Kathy Bingham also believes love is being able to put another persons needs and wants before your own. "Ain't nothing to it, but to do it," says Kathy.

"Love is contentment with another person-longlasting contentment" stated Mr. Nugent. Kathy Kurz believes love is having complete peace of mind and self satisfaction. Fern Harris termed love as "a Hurting thing.

"Love is whatever aperson wants it to be," said Curt Smith. Mark Rapalski believes love is "peace". Mrs. Mathews also believes love is peace. "It weaves a cloth of understanding with just the skinny threads of good intentions." Lee Sheley says, "love is a beautiful feeling that everybody

WRESTLERS TAKE NIVC CAGERS AWAIT ST. JOE FIVE FIRSTS FOR LIONS

by Bruce Lightner and Buck Mackenzie

Once again the Lions and the Clay Colonials met head on for the decision of the NIVC wrestling crown. Last year the Lions barely lost, but this time around came back to avenge that defeat. They have shown the conference and the city that they are one of the best. LaSalle finished with one of it's best records ever, and it's nine and one record this year turns the hopes for future sectionals as well as this years. Summary:

97: Wilson (L) by forfeit. 105: Ward (L) dec. Marks, 5-2. 114: Rarick (C) dec. Cramer (L) 5-2. 122: Grembowicz (L) dec. Critchlow 10-0. 129: Walker (L) dec. Graber 5-3. 135: Shepard (L) dec. What happens when you get five first places, three seconds, a third and a fourth, and still get edged out? That's exactly what happened to LaSalle in the first NIVC tournament. The Lions NIVC tournament. The Lions were beaten by Penn and Clay's wrestlers.

Five Lions proved to be great in their classes; Farell Wilson (98) Larry Ward (106). Larry Grenbowicz (123), Vern Shepard (136), and Doug Little (178). LaSalle finished behind co-winners Penn and Clay, with Jackson, Marian, and St. Joe bringing up the rear.

LaSalles "B" - Grapplers ended the season in a fine winning style; a 7-1-1 record, and capturing a tourney crown. The teams first and only loss was to Culver Military by 15-33. Then a winning streak of eight dual meets and a tournament closed out the year. On January 28 they tied Clay, 21-

It was also a great season for individual stars, with 5 B champs and seven wrestlers undefeated. Those undefeated are, at 105, Barry Shriver, at 114, Greg Rodick, at 122, Andy Peiper, 129, Stan Williams, 135, Don Rodick, 145, , Dan Harmon, and at Heavyweig ... t, Jim Korpal.

The city "B" tourney went well this year, LaSalle having 5 winners, two thirds, and a fourth. The Lions finished first with a point total of 75, followed by Washington with 69, and Central finishing third. Other schools par-ticipating were Adams, Riley, North Liberty, Mishawaka, and Clay, First place finishers for LaSalle were Greg Rodick (114), Andy Peiper (112), Bill Hay (154), and Bob Crowell (165). Third place finishers were Dan Harman (147), and Dan Maiuri (177), and Barry Shriver finished fourth.

Season summary for B team; LHS 15, CMA 33; LHS 39, CHS 6; LHS 27, Brandywine 16; LHS 35, Jackson 6; LHS 29, Riley 9; LHS 60, St. Joe 0; LHS 40 Laville 5; LHS 33, Penn 9; LHS 35, Marion 7; LHS 21, Clay 21; City Tourney, LaSalle first.

TANKERS TALES

by Mark Bradford

LaSalle finished fourth in the City Swim meet, February 1, behind Jackson, Adams, and Riley in that order. Washington, Central, and Clay rounded out the field

Jackson took five first place finishes, including a relay. Adams took four, and Riley, two. La-Salle failed to finish first, but had one second, that being in the 400 yard freestyle relay.

Though LaSalle had no individual winners higher than thirds, they took one third, one fourth. four fifths, and two sixths. Jim Wilson finished third in the 400 yard freestyle, Mark Bednaerek took a fourth in the 100 yard butterfly, Wilson finished fifth in the 200 yard individual medley, Harley Sellers took a fifth in diving, Jeff Schrader was sixth in the 100 breaststroke. LaSalle also took a fourth in the 200 yard medley relay.

Adams' winners were Bill Fitzgerald and Jeff Clark each taking two events. Jacksons' winners were Bill Dodd, Jay Ettyl, Cris Jones, and Howie Haines. Riley had two firsts, a relay, and Jim Nagy's victory in the 100 backstroke.

The final team scoring was Jackson with 98 points, Adams 83, Riley was way back with 34, Lasalle was fourth with 32. Washington had 24, Central with 10, and Clay with four. Jackson's winning total was one of the lowest in recent years.

LaSalle has guaranteed itself of a winning season this year, even with the loss of one of its star swimmers. Coming off with from a 7-6 record last season, the Lions have become a city threat. And with state hopefuls Jackson and Adams, South Bend swimming is the toughest in the area, and maybe state. This certainly is a credit to Coach Al Thompson and his hard-working boys.

A good foundation had been laid for the future, also. Four sophomores, Bill Claycomb, Ken Luzney, Mark Kernsten, and John Horvath, and a freshman, Rich Nye, have made the traveling team.

CAGERS CORNER

This year's NIVC race promises to be as exciting as last years finish, when LaSalle and Penn tied for the crown. St. Joe, SaSalle, Penn, and Marian all have a chance at the title, and many key games between the teams are in store for the rest of the schedule.

St. Joe looks like the team to beat. Thier record in the city is the the best, losing only to Riley in the Holiday Tournament. Friday the Indians will go up against the Lions, who would very much like to get the crown again this year.

St. Joe has all the mental tools that a team needs; determination. a desire to win, and a concious effort of teamwork. Paul Fredlake is one of the top guards in the city, and leads the St. Joe attack with his passing and dribbling. Underneath the basket for the Indians is Dale Lesicki. and while he's not the best in the areas, he is: tough and determined to get the bound. Dean Piotrowski also lends a hand to the St. Joe team.

BREMEN BEATEN

LaSalle moved closer to a fourth Consecutive winning season on February 1, with a 67-53 win over Bremen at LaSalle.

The Lions were led by Al Armstrong who put in 18 points, mostly from far range. Curt Lake and Denny Nowicki had 16 and 11 points respectively.

The Lions started very slowly and were quickly behind 7-1 and 12-6 at the end of the first quarter. But they pulled to within three at the half, 26-23. The second half was entirely different. Curt Lake hit a three point play to put the Lions ahead to stay, 37-35, and the Lions came to life and outscored Breman 44-29 in the last half.

The "B" team continued to win impressively with a 48-41 win over the Bremen Cubs. Sam Brown was the leading scorer with 12 points.

CAVEMEN CREAMED

Article 5-3

Homecoming '69 was victori-ous for LaSalle, then the cagers swept Mishawaka January 31, 83-70.

The first half was nip and tuck all the way, with LaSalle leading at the first quarter, 17-15, and again at the intermission, 37-33.

When the teams came out for the final 16 minutes, the score at first didn't change. The Lions and the Cavemne exchanged baskets quicker than you could keep track of. At 2:12 to go in the third quarter, LaSalle was in the lead, and seconds later, Chuck Henderson gave LaSalle a 48-45 But Hamh ight for command. Mishawaka hit and from that point on the lead changed from one point to three ruints four times, with the third quarter score, 53-50.

by Dennis Roscow and Ken Russel

The game remained close until mid-way through the fourth quarter. Fred Miller hit a bucket to give LaSalle a ten point lead, and from that point on Curt Lake, Ralph Hay, and Steve Madison kept the LaSalle lead. Madison hit two quickies before the horn sounded to establish the final score.

LaSalle proved great balance in the scoring, with four players in double figures. Curt Lake led with 19, Chuck Henderson had 17, Steve Madison had 16. And Al Armstrong scored 13.

TROJANS CONQUERED

LaSalle returned to the win column again on January 25 with an 86-74 win over Chesterton Trojans on the Lions court.

The Lion reserves were the key to the victory as the non-starters put in 56 of the total points. Sophomore Al Armstrong scored 21 pounts in a reserve role along with Curtis Lake with 19. Denny Nowicki and Kevin Fitzgerald were in foul trouble but still ccored 11 and 10 respectively.

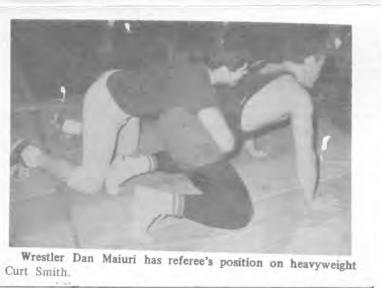

The cagers built up a nine point lead in the second quarter only to have Chesterton melt it away to only one, 40-39, at halftime. The game remained close until the last quarter when the Lions started to jell and put the game out of reach.

The B-team came back from a terrible first half when they were down 21-14 to smash the Trojan Bees, 53-38. Greg Urbanski led the Lions with 16.

AREA BASKETBALL SCENE VIEWED BY THE "LION"

South Bend area Basketball, for the fourth consecutive year, does not have a Top Ten state-ranking power. St. Joe, according to the wire services, is the closest thing Sou'h Bend has. The Indians sparked by Paul Fredlake, rely on hustle, determination, and that highly spirited cheering section.

Adams and Central, both have the potential of getting the respect of the state that was once theirs! Central has all the tools: a shooter a ball handler, cornerman, speed, and a defensive un t. Adams is rejoicing the return of all their walking wounded" to the active

Riley, improving ever so slightly each game, prays that Ken Reynolds will not wait to shoot until Riley gets behind.

Washington is led by Mike Davis who, at 5-9, can rebound his own infrequently missed shots with the best. Fortunately for the city schools, this is where the all-state potential begins and ends for the Panthers.

Looking towards the NIVC, Doug Lindborg and Ron Sanders lead the quintet at Clay, but their record doesn't show the possibil'*y of an upset. Jackson, hoping someday to see our cannon, thought "this is the year" and thus left how to end the phrase to your imagination.

Marian and Penn could be the spoilers in our repeat quest for the title. Marian, who have had false illusions of the trophy, punished Penn, and for this we thank them, for Penn delayed our clinch ing of the title until Feb. 14, when we will, again, graciously accept the NIVC trophy.

OFFICERS

January 17 was the day set aside for the election of the officers of the sophomore class.

The sophomores were unable to elect their officers in the fall of the year as the other classes did because of the lack of a sponsor. Mr. Shilts, however, accepted the position as sponsor during December so the class will now be able to plan for the 1969 year.

The results of the election were as follows: Greg Urbanski, president; Ron Finnigan, Vice-presi-dent; Peggy Caenepeel, Secretary, and Linda Glaser, Treasurer.

The executive board will consist of Bob Crowell, Cathy Boy-les, Marcia Podemski, Dixie Krill, Craig Welsh, Debbie Decker, and Debbie Burns.

DIARY OF IRVING ODYSSEUS

I left the ship that had taken me from the island to Baltimore early this morning. The captain told me that things had changed in thirty years. I realized this, but I didn't think there would be so many marked changes.

As I walked down a street, I noticed one particular change; in 1939, we thought that, as the human mutated, he became less hairy. So much for that theory.

Another difference that I saw was that almost all young people had what appeared to be a power source plugged into their ears. It seemed that they were utterly dependent on it.

If this generation is dependent on an auxilary power source, I wonder what future generations will use to sustain themselves.

My suspicions about the device being a portable power source were confirmed when I asked a young fellow what the device was used for. He said, "It turns me on."

I also spied an automobile with two signs on its back end. One of them said "COLTS" in big blue letters and the other said "BUB-BA." I knew what a colt was, but for the life of me, I couldn't figure out what a Bubba was.

LASALLE SINGERS

The LaSalle Singers, a group of twelve girls and twelve boys from the glee club classes have made quite a name for themselves recently. Mr. Vogel directs the group, which also includes a gui-tarist, a drummer, and a string bass player.

The singers have performed for the Lions Club at O'Laughlin Auditorium, Mr. Smorgasbord Restaurant for a dinner, and at the Indiana Club.

THE CITY

by Andres Marshell

The first rays of the morning sun crept between the profiles of the towering buildings, cast-ing long shadows on the dirty streets. A short, fat man scur-ried through the dim coolness, digging deep in his pockets as he went. He stopped before one of the lesser buildings, produced from his pocket a large key ring, and unlocked the door before him. As he stepped into the hallway, a car roared through the deserted street, whipping a torn candy wrapper through the air in the whirlwind of its passing. The car was followed by a bus, and another, and still another: each one screeching to a halt at the curb and disgorging its load of passengers. Cars move in evergrowing numbers, horns blaring, engines filling the air with a cacophony of sound and smoke. Soon, the sun hung high overhead, loosing its golden rays on the turning city below.

People milled restlessly on the sidewalks, seeming to lack pur-pose, making the sidewalks a turning kaleidoscope of colors and swirling imagery. Storekeepers expounded the value of their wares. and clerks ran their cash registers On January 31, during half-time of the LaSalle-Mishawaka game, Lynn Aranowski was crowned as the 1969 Basketball Homecoming Queen.

unceasingly throughout the day. Shadows grew longer as the crowds began to thin. Buses drew up to the curbs and took on fresh loads of passengers. Suddenly, from a distance, came the scream of a whistle. The crowd momentarily swelled, then settled again, and rapidly dissipated.

A short fat man stepped from a doorway, locked the door, and disappeared around the corner. A single ray of sunlight shown a torn candy wrapper that momentarily whirled, then fell to the street.
